

Preliminary Thesis Defence

Supervisor: Jean-Louis Arcand***
Second Reader: Love Vanderwalle†

Bastiaan Quast‡

November 13, 2013

*Professor of Economics, The Graduate Institute, Geneva; Director, Centre for Finance and Development; jean-louis.arcand@graduateinstitute.ch

†Assistant Professor of Economics, The Graduate Institute, Geneva; lore.vandewalle@graduateinstitute.ch

‡PhD Student, The Graduate Institute, Geneva; bastiaan.quast@graduateinstitute.ch / bquast@gmail.com

Contents

Introduction	v
1 South Africa	1
2 Surviving Andersonville	3
3 Single-Agent Belief Distributions	5
4 Police Reform Conkary	7
5 Bitcoin remittances	9
6 Rare events	11
7 Morris Shin 1998, Unique equilibrium in a model of self-fulfilling currency attacks	13
End notes	15

Introduction

jade

1 South Africa

a la duffo

2 Surviving Andersonville

article

3 Single-Agent Belief Distributions

examples

4 Police Reform Conkary

In this article I will analyse the impact of police the proximitee in Conakry, Guinea.

5 Bitcoin remittances

In this article I would like to discuss the economic effects of Bitcoin (BTC) and other cryptocurrencies.

6 Rare events

black swans, dragon king

7 Morris Shin 1998, Unique equilibrium in a model of self-fulfilling currency attacks

Morris Shin, Self fulfilling currency attacks, risk and uncertainty

End notes